

GOOD WILL-HINCKLEY
Educating Youth. Changing Lives.

Immediate Opening

Special Education Director

Good Will-Hinckley and the Glenn Stratton Learning Center is looking for a dedicated, dynamic, detail-oriented individual to fill the position of Special Education Director for our K-12 day treatment program.

For over 130 years, the Good Will Idea to provide a home and helping hand to boys and girls in need has stood tall and proud on the beautiful sprawling campus of Good Will-Hinckley in Fairfield, Maine. As a young boy, George Walter Hinckley offered his food and bed to an orphan seeking refuge in his home. From that one act of kindness sprang his enduring gift to the world: The Good-Will Idea.

In 1889, the Good Will-Hinckley Homes for Boys and Girls was born. GWH has uplifted thousands of Maine children and young adults by providing resources and a family for life. George Walter would be proud of what our organization has become. Offering everything from therapeutic residential treatment to dynamic educational services—including the Glenn Stratton Learning Center and our growing College Step-Up and Transitions Program—GWH is more than just a campus or a special purpose private school in Maine. We're a community that's given thousands of young people the tools they need not just to survive but thrive.
