Activities Calendar

Saturday, November 4, 1 0 AM

Solar Bead and Cloud Experiments

Use solar beads to learn about the light from the sun and make a cloud and see how it effects sun-light. Do NISE Earth and Space experiments to discover the effects of a vacuum and how shadows are formed.

Saturday, November 4, 1 - 2 pm

Old Time Toys

Take a trip through history and explore some of the popular games kids played a hundred years ago! Roll a hoop, play a proper Victorian game called Graces, try a ring toss, write on a slate board and more, as well as making a craft to take home.

Saturday, November 11th, 1 0 AM

Capturing A Bird On Paper

Join us to tour the bird gallery to look at bird adaptations and then find a bird or two you would like to draw. Make a colorful watercolor or drawing to take home.

Young visitors to the museum may do an engaging, natural science scavenger hunt whenever they visit the museum. Come explore the museum with a science hunt in hand.

Saturday, November 18, 1 0 AM

Winter Birds in Maine

When winter comes to Maine, many birds migrate south—but some stay and tough it out! We will discuss some of these hardy birds, and the special adaptations and behaviors they use to survive until spring returns.

Admission - Adults: $4 - Under 18: $1

Activities included with admission unless otherwise noted

Friday, November 24, 1 - 2pm

A Guided Tour of the Bird Dioramas

Take a guided tour of the museum's Maine bird dioramas painted by Charles Hubbard. Learn to identify the birds in the dioramas and where they are found. See how Hubbard's background paintings in the dioramas show us the birds common habitats. Make a small bird diorama.

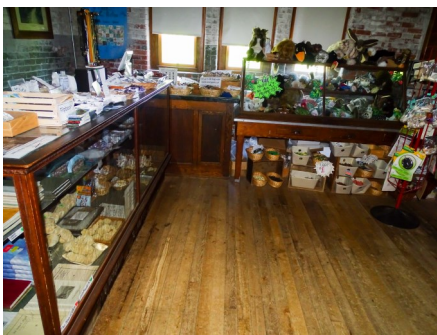

Saturday, November 25th, 1 - 2pm

Wabanaki American Baskets

Join us for a fun and educational tour of the museum's basket collection, including fine examples of Penobscot and Passamaquoddy craftsmanship. Learn more about some of the natural materials and techniques involved in creating the baskets.

The Museum Gift Shop

Visit the museum gift shop for holiday gifts for your family. There are puppets, fossils, minerals, small stone animals, jewelry, books, sea shells, and more.
